A line extension for a water/wastewater construction project approved by Commissioners. The purpose of this policy is to provide the manner in which the costs for extending water and sewer systems necessitated to provide services not currently available to customers are established and collected.

All property owners, whether part of a larger development or an individual lot owner, shall incur the full development cost for the extensions. The costs shall include, but may not be limited to, design, permitting, construction, inspection, mitigation and restoration efforts, the total to be determined at the conclusion of the project and presented by staff to the Commissioners for final approval.

Summerville Commissioners of Public Works
Schedule of Fees and Service Charges - Updated 07/01/2026

Upon determining the final project value, the cost will be proportionally distributed to those in which services are being made available at the sole discretion of the Commissioners. Due to varying circumstances, the costs may be distributed on the basis of lot count, acreage, front footage, capacity or other unforeseen methodology. Line extension fees are to be collected in conjunction with service connection fees. Individual line extension fees in excess of $1,000 may be financed interest free for a period not to exceed 12 months, a $200 administrative fee will be added, and the financing will require a note and lien to be executed.

Annually at the end of SCPW's fiscal year, line extension fees shall be reviewed and adjusted to the federally published inflation rate for water and sewer utilities. Effective with the July FY 2026-2027 budget, a 2.63% increase has been applied to the current line extension fees shown below:
